

Past simple – Pronunciation

You arrived in England last week.

My mum studied Russian at university.

I phoned you yesterday, but you weren't at home.

Lucy and Alice planned their next trip last night.

Tom invited us to his birthday party.

The children carried their books to the classroom.

The driver braked suddenly to avoid hitting the cat.

We finished the exam at half past three.

I chatted to Rosy about films and fashion.

Felipe watched a film.

She carried a box upstairs for her mum.

They helped their father tidy up the garden.

Sally and Amy swapped their things around in their room.

Rosy closed the door.

Raul danced with his girlfriend at the party.

The twins played tennis last Saturday.

She washed the dishes last night.

Andrew fixed the broken plate.

Rosy washed her hair last night.

The bus stopped at the traffic lights.

Sarah cooked pizza for dinner last night.