

What should you do?

You come from a family of doctors. Everyone expects you to become a doctor too. You don't want to become a doctor you want to be a musician.	Your classmate found the answers to an exam that you are all going to have to take next week.	You have been invited to a very fancy restaurant for a job interview. You want the job but don't have any clothes that would be appropriate and its three weeks until you get paid.
Your older brother has been expecting news about a very important job today on the phone answering machine. When you come home you accidentally erased all the messages.	Someone at college is illegally downloading music and films from the internet.	Your teenage daughter won't stop playing computer games. Her grades are getting worse and her teachers are very concerned. Both you and your husband work evenings.
You have a chance for a better job in another city. You don't like the other city but you hate the job you have now.	You found a wallet in the street. It is full of money and credit cards.	You have to write a composition for your teacher but you don't have time. You find a sample paper on the internet.
You discover that your best friend's boyfriend has been seeing someone else.	You have been receiving phone calls very late at night for the last week. When you answer the phone the person at the other end of the line won't say anything.	Your neighbour recently bought a dog which barks all the time.
You received too much change at the till. You only discovered it this morning.	Someone sees you having lunch with a married friend. Now people think you're having an affair, but It's not true.	You share your house with 3 other people. Last night you left money on the table, but in the morning it had gone.