

Make or Do - Right or Wrong

The CEO made some interesting comments.

Andres always makes his homework on time.

How much money does a taxi driver make?

In the morning I get up, have a shower, get dressed, and then make my breakfast.

Please make sure that the money has gone into the correct account.

The teacher did some very positive comments about Rosy's work.

There's so much paperwork to make. I'll be here all night!

Could you do the bed today?

I'd like to make Rosy an offer of a job. She had a great interview.

This class is so boring! Let's do an escape during the break.

Felipe did an excuse to his boss about why he was late.

Rosy is a doctor and she makes a lot of money

Stop talking and make some work!

I really want to do some progress on this project today.

You made three mistakes on your quiz.

I offered her the job, and said she had until Monday to make her mind up.

She spent the evening watching series and making her nails.

I have to do my taxes soon.

It takes me an hour a day to make the cleaning.

It was easy for me to do a decision about my next trip.

Did their new business do a profit last year?

You should always try to do a good job.

Rosy can't come tonight. She's already done plans with friends.